KAISER'S BROTHER
AMERICA'S GUEST.

Prince Henry Reaches New York in Good Health and Spirits.

Salutes Fired by the Squadron and Land Batteries—His Royal Highness Greets the Flag—Calls of Ceremony—His Good-fellowship.

(BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)

NEW YORK, Feb. 23.—Prince Henry of Prussia, representative of the Kaiser, arrived in New York today, and was cordially welcomed as a guest of the nation. The land batteries that guard the outer harbor sounded the first greeting in a pattering salute of twenty-one guns. The rifles of a special naval squadron assisted in his honor echoed the sentiment; there were verbal greetings from the representatives of the President, the army, the navy, and the city of New York, and a great crowd lined the way into the city to see and cheer the sailor Prince of Germany.

The great storm against which the Kron Prince Wilhelm had struggled for days, and which had placed the Atlantic Coast in an armor of ice, had lost its force, and resigned its way to warm sunshine and cherry blue skies, so there were no regrets that the royal guest was a full day late for the entertainment provided for him. The Kron Prince, reaching out from the storm-swept coast, had located the belated liner, and made certain the hour that he would reach Sandy Hook. There was a curtain of fog early this morning, and the watch-crew caught the shadowy lines of the Kron Prince as he came out of the harbor.

Rear-Admiral Robley D. Evans, commander of the special squadron and honorary aide to the Prince, left the flagship Illinois at 8:40 o'clock in the morning, and was met by the Kron Prince at 10:15. With him were Capt. Converse, his chief of staff; Lieut. Commander, Ensign, and other officers. The Kron Prince, who was in excellent spirits, smiled when he faced the newspaper writers, and after the formal part of the presentation said he was quite sure that their relations would be very happy.

After a brief halt the vessels moved ahead, and at 10:15 o'clock were abreast of the special squadron off Tompkinsville. The German standard flag ran to the foremast of the Kron Prince, and its appearance gave the signal to the American fleet to salute. The San Francisco, Cincinnati, Olympia, and Illinois lay in the rear of the Kron Prince, and made an attractive picture with their crews manning the sides, turrets, and tops of the masts. The Kron Prince saluted the American fleet with a salute of twenty-one guns, and the American fleet responded with a salute of twenty-one guns.

As the two vessels, with a flotilla of tugs and official craft moved in the harbor, the first of the salutes of twenty-one guns was fired. As the first gun sounded, the Kron Prince advanced to the end of the bridge of the Illinois. As he passed the Kron Prince saluted the fortification, he raised his cap in salute, and the Kron Prince saluted the fortification. As the Kron Prince saluted the fortification, he raised his cap in salute, and the Kron Prince saluted the fortification.

WHEN DEWEY CALLED PRINCE HENRY DOWN.

BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.

NEW YORK, Feb. 23.—Prior to his departure from Germany, it was officially announced that Prince Henry would not be interviewed, and today he adhered strictly to this determination. Whatever the Prince has to say for publication will be given out by a member of his staff.

Capt. Von Mueller, aide-de-camp to the German Emperor, who is authorized to speak not only for Prince Henry, but in a measure to voice the Emperor's own views, said today to an Associated Press representative in explanation of the Prince's visit: "When the President, on the inquiry of the German Emperor, whether Miss Roosevelt would perform the ceremony of christening his American-built yacht, had given his consent, in a most graceful manner, His Majesty resolved to show his regard for the President by having himself represented by a Prince of his house on the occasion of the launching. In contemplating this courtesy, the Emperor remembered the pleasant relations between Prince Henry and Admiral Dewey and Rear-Admiral Evans, and also recalled that his brother, on his return from China, had expressed a strong wish to visit the United States. This desire, however, could not be gratified at that time. Moreover, the Emperor was influenced by the fact that Prince Henry, whenever he was abroad, had always won the admiration and esteem of those with whom he was brought in contact, and had always succeeded in bringing a tone of kindness, based on mutual esteem in the international relations. This, I think, will indicate the feeling that actuated the Emperor in the choice of Prince Henry as his representative on this pleasant occasion."

"The Prince is very grateful that the Emperor selected him for this mission. He is delighted to have been sent by the Emperor to the United States, and to pay his respects to the President, which included himself and his brother-in-law, the German Consul-General at New York and his suite formed a part of the German Ambassador's party."

About an hour was spent by the Prince in receiving his callers and in making an admiral's inspection of the ship's crew of the Hohenzollern. Then followed a luncheon.

The Prince invited to this luncheon those who represented the navy, and beside these there were at the board the members of the Prince's suite and members of the German embassy in Washington. On Prince Henry's right sat the highest representative of the Emperor in this country, Ambassador von Holleben, and on his left Admiral Evans. Next to the Ambassador on the Prince's right sat Capt. Converse of the Illinois, and the other Americans present at the luncheon were Lieut. Chapin and Ensign Evans, son of Admiral Evans.

The luncheon, which was informal, was followed by a visit to the ship. The Prince announced to his guests that he would repay this afternoon all his official visits. He told Admiral Evans he would be glad to see the latest-built battleship of the American navy.

The Prince boarded the tug Nina at 3:30 o'clock to repay his calls. He was accompanied by one aide and Admiral Evans and Ensign Evans and Chapin. He visited the navy yard first, called on Admiral Barker, and then Governor's Island, where he called on Gen. Brooke. From Governor's Island, he proceeded to the battleship Illinois, where he called on Admiral Evans and inspected the ship. He was received by the squadron with the honors due his rank. From the Illinois, the Prince returned to the pier at Thirty-fourth street and went aboard the Hohenzollern for dinner.

MUST PROVE HIS CHARGES.

Tullman at the End of His Ranting.

Past Conduct is Cited Against Him.

Philippine Tariff Bill to Be Voted On—Prince Henry Will Be Present.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 23.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) Senator Tullman is going to have a lot of trouble in convincing himself from the mass he got into by hitting Senator McLaughlin in the face in the Senate yesterday. His case is now before the Committee on Privileges and Elections, which is headed by Senator Burrows of Michigan, and a very bitter feeling is growing up against him. Senator Burrows, discussing the case of Tullman tonight, said:

"For years, we have heard Tullman questioning our motives and honesty, calling us hypocrites and cowards; using violent, reckless language, and charging the officers of the government with grave improprieties. We heard him yesterday declare that the administration of which President McKinley was the head had bribed a member of the Senate to vote for the treaty. The blows that were struck and the language that was used are of less consequence than the charges that Tullman made. In this charge, other senators and government officers are involved. It is eminently proper that Tullman have an opportunity to substantiate his charges. If they are true, we want to know it. If they are not true it is proper to hold Tullman accountable."

So, before Tullman gets out of his scrape he will be obliged to prove that the charges he made against McLaughlin are true, whereas all McLaughlin will have to do is to apologize to the Senate for calling Tullman a liar. McLaughlin has say nothing before him, but it seems likely that it will be a long time before Tullman will again be allowed to exercise full Senatorial powers, because he will remain in contempt until he apologizes to the Senate, and to McLaughlin. He declares that he never will do the latter, and until he does, he will not be permitted to take part in the proceedings of the Senate.

TULLMAN AWAITS UNFOLDING.
(BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 23.—Neither Senator Tullman nor Senator McLaughlin were disposed to enter into any discussion today, regarding the happenings in the Senate. Tullman, however, did say in reply to questions as to whether there had been any developments, that nothing had occurred. He said: "So far as my own purposes are concerned, I am simply awaiting developments, and will act in accordance with my judgment as they unfold themselves."

Mr. McLaughlin declined to make any statement when asked to do so. A SENTIMENT FOR EXPULSION.
(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 23.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) The Senators are aroused by the incident resulting from the assault on his colleague, McLaughlin. One member of the Committee on Privileges and Elections, and an influential one at that, will certainly contend for the greatest punishment possible. The view of this Senator is approved by a number of others, who hold that the character of the assault made by Tullman has brought the body into disrepute, and that the vituperation heaped upon the members of the Senate and administration, if permitted to be continued, would destroy the respect of the country and the world for the Senate and the republic form of government. If the views of this Senator prevail, expulsion may result for Tullman. A two-thirds vote is required to expel, but a majority vote can inflict any other kind of punishment, even to the commitment of Tullman to jail.

Senator Elkins characterized the assault on Senator McLaughlin as a most disgraceful affair, that would bring the Senate into disrepute all over the world. He believed the affair ought to be met carefully and seriously considered by the Senate. He was feeling on the part of some Senators that McLaughlin is not properly in contempt, and the judgment of the committee as regards him may be quite different from that directed against his antagonist in the stilet encounter.

Senator McLaughlin asserts he could not have done less than he did when he characterized the statement of his colleague as a lie. Had he not resented the insult in the place where it had been given him, McLaughlin says, he could not have gone back to his State and faced his people.

CONCESSIONS TO CUBA.
RESOLUTION BY REPUBLICANS.
(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 23.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) A caucus of the Republican members of the Ways and Means Committee will be held Tuesday evening, when the agreement with regard to the Cuban tariff legislation arranged at the White House yesterday between the President and Representatives Grosvener, Russell and Dainell will be submitted, and probably adopted. The proposition will be in the shape of a resolution, as follows: "That it is the sense of the majority members of the committee (subject to the approval of the House) that members of the House, in caucus assembled, be held as soon as practicable, that the committee report a bill, in substance authorizing the President to negotiate a reciprocity treaty with the Cuban republic, when established, providing for the entry of such goods into Cuba upon such terms as shall be deemed by him to be advantageous to us; provided, however, that such treaty shall secure for our products entering into Cuba duties less than those allowed to other countries, substantially equivalent to concession made by us, that the consideration upon our part for such treaty shall be a concession of 20 per cent. of our tariff duties upon imports of products of Cuba, upon condition that Cuba shall first enact our concession laws."

Representative Coombs of California said today that he believed best-sugar men would fight the proposition in conference with the last ditch. If was his idea, he said, that a vote should be taken on some other proposition to test their strength in conference, and then, if it was found that the other side was in the majority, the best-sugar men should quietly withdraw from the conference rather than stay and vote, and be beaten on the main proposition, in which case they might be bound by it.

CONGRESSIONAL PROGRAMME.
FRANCE AND PHILIPPINE BILL.
(BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 23.—In accordance with the agreement heretofore reached, the Senate will begin voting at 4 o'clock on the Philippine Tariff Bill. All the time of the day's session previous to that hour will be devoted to brief speeches for and against the bill, the time to be divided between the supporters and the opponents of the bill. The opinion has been advanced that yesterday's episode between Senator Tullman and McLaughlin might have the effect of causing a postponement of the time for voting on the bill, in order to permit Senators to speak who have desired to do so, but there is no probability of this. The Senate regards unanimous consent agreements very seriously, and will not allow anything to interfere with them.

According to the present programme, the Senate will be in session at 10 o'clock on the day of taking the vote on the Philippine bill, and he will be allowed to observe it at that time from the floor of the Senate or from the gallery, as he may prefer. Probably all the members of the Senate will be present to his presence shall interfere in any way with the action of the Senate.

The bill making appropriations for the fiscal year 1925, and the Philippine bill, and probably will receive the attention of the Senate. The Philippine bill is out of the way. There is, however, some discussion of the Philippine bill, and the friends of the ship subsidy bill over the present arrangement, and if the bill is passed, it will be a witness of a deal of time there may be an effort to displace it. All will depend on the action of the Republican Steering Committee.

MISS STONE AT LIBERTY.

Mme. Tsilka and Child Also Released.

American Missionary is in Strumitza.

Dr. Judson Smith Receives a Cablegram from Haskell, Bulgaria's Designs.

(BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)
CONSTANTINOPLE, Feb. 23.—(By Atlantic Cable.) Miss Ellen M. Stone, the American missionary who, with Mme. Tsilka, was captured by brigands in the district of Salonika, September 21st, has been released, and arrived at Strumitza, Macedonia, at 3 o'clock this morning.

Nobody was at Strumitza to meet Miss Stone, as the brigands had given no indication where they proposed to release the prisoners.

Mme. Tsilka and her baby were also released at the same time. They are all well. Miss Stone immediately made herself known to the authorities. The first news of Miss Stone's release came by a telegram received by the American Consul-General at Constantinople, from the American vice-consul at Salonika. The telegram gives no details of the release. As Strumitza is near the Salonika-Uskub Railroad, Miss Stone will proceed to Salonika without delay.

CABLEGRAM SAYS SAFE.
(BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)
BOSTON, Feb. 23.—Judson Smith, one of the secretaries of the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions, has received a cablegram from the American vice-consul at Salonika, dated February 23, containing the word "Safe," and signed Haskell.

The cablegram is a relief to the American Board stationed at Salonika. The board has received the release of Miss Stone and Mme. Tsilka, and is relieved. It is as follows: "Both Miss Stone and Mme. Tsilka are well and in good physical condition, and good spirits. Secretary Barton regards this news as absolutely authentic, as the mission of the board had been given instructions to send no cablegrams based on mere reports, but to await until positive information could be given."

BULGARIA'S CHAPTER ONE.
SPENCER EDDY ON KIDNAPING.
(BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)
NEW YORK, Feb. 23.—Spencer Eddy, first secretary of the United States legation at Constantinople, who had charge of the negotiations for the release of Miss Ellen M. Stone and Mme. Tsilka, arrived here today on the Kron Prinz Wilhelm. In an interview, he said that he had captured an interesting picture rather than any other missionary because they believed the Americans had the right to be released and would be likely to pay the ransom.

"No, they did not, and that is where the American people do not understand this case. It is entirely a political matter, and all the people in Macedonia are in sympathy with the kidnapping. They believe it is a step toward freeing Macedonia from Turkish rule, and the money they demanded ($10,000) was intended for the Macedonian cause."

"If we had been dealing with the professional brigands who wanted ransom, they would have been released long ago. It is very likely that the kidnapping was a deliberate act for a long time, and the victims were not considered as prisoners to be released, but as a means to serve the cause, when compared with those of other nationalities."

from the United States legation in Constantinople regarding Miss Stone's case. It was encouraging in character, and while it did not report Miss Stone's release as an assured fact, yet the tenor was such as to lead the officials confidently to believe that such a happy consummation was a matter of a very few hours.

STENOGRAPHER'S FRENZY.
George C. Hildrose Takes Bloody Revenge on the Family of His Sweetheart Because He Was Refused DOWRY.
(BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)
CHICAGO, Feb. 23.—Angered because his persistent demands for a dowry sufficient to give him a start in housekeeping were refused, and seeking revenge on the family of his sweetheart, George C. Hildrose, a stenographer, today shot and instantly killed Henry Meyer, the girl's father, and slightly wounded Emma Meyer, his sister. The father and sister were in the house when Hildrose entered, and he rushed into the street. Then, believing that the father had killed Henry Meyer, he rushed back and shot through the father's head, and the couple became engaged last Tuesday, and the young man at once began his demands that the father should furnish him with a start in housekeeping. He was persistent that the paternal consent to the proposed union was withdrawn when the father refused to furnish him with a start in housekeeping. He was 26 years of age and a native of Belfast, Ireland, coming to this country when 12 years of age.

After the robbery, he fled to London and then to this country.

When searched, he had in his clothing, thirteen large diamond rings, some other jewelry and $25 in American money, besides a few sovereigns. He declared that his lonesomeness on finding himself in America depressed him so that he thought the best thing to do was to give himself up.

IMPERIAL LANDS.
The interest in Imperial lands has not abated in the least. There are more people inquiring about Imperial lands than ever before. Think of farming in a country where you can get all the water you want and when you want it. The Colorado river is the source of Imperial Settlement's water supply. These lands are adapted to general farming, stock raising, early fruits, sugar beets, etc. The soil is as fertile as the valley of the Nile, and the price from $1.50 to $15 per acre and only $2.50 per acre cash, puts it within the reach of all.

BURIED FOR SEVEN DAYS.

Young Man Interred in Chutes Grounds.

Put to Sleep by His Hypnotic Nibs.

Will Lie Motionless in His Grave Till Told to Come Forth.

Beneath a mound of newly-turned earth, within an inclosure in a corner of the Chutes grounds, lies Jerome Macdonald, who was buried yesterday afternoon in the presence of a large and jubilant throng of people.

For a headpiece, there are two wooden tubes, about eight inches square. At the foot of the grave is another, which is higher than those at the head.

The curious may view the subject as he lies beneath the sod, through either of the wooden chimneys at the head of the mound.

This was no ordinary burial. There were no tears, but laughter prevailed, and every one of the spectators enjoyed the scene.

The reason why this burial was so gay is that after seven days, or, on next Sunday afternoon, Macdonald will be told to come forth, and it is presumed, he will come.

THE MAGICIAN. The magician, who will release this captive from a seeming death, is Prof. C. W. Fall, the hypnotist, who acted in the capacity of executor, and funeral director yesterday.

The event, which was to have occurred on Saturday, but was postponed on account of the rain, was well advertised and took precedence, in point of interest, over the trick dogs and the performing lion.

A pine box, the kind that is used when coffins run short, occupied a prominent position on the floor of the stand during the afternoon, and was always the center of a curious crowd. Over near the lower corner of an open grave. Every one looked into it and then went over and peered at the coffin and speculated on whether it was going to rain and whether it would spoil the show or not.

Macdonald, who was about to have a week of his life obliterated, stood on the corner of the mound, apparently pleased with the prospect of resting easy for so long a time. He is a tall, thin fellow, 25 years old. He has a gorgeous crop of dark red hair and the complexion that goes with it, and looks otherwise as though his week's seclusion, with full eyes and no beard bids to pay, would be agreeable.

ALL FOR "SCIENCE." When the professor mounted the stand and platform there was a jam of people there. He began by stating that the performance was a scientific demonstration of hypnotism and called for the committee of physicians that had been selected to take observations. Two or three responded.

A couple of attendants then unrolled a bundle of blankets and comforters and made a bed in the bottom of the box.

"Jerry" Macdonald was then ushered to the platform, appeared in a purple bathrobe which shrieked against his shaven hair and complexion. He was looking languid and debonair and the crowd gazed him.

The bathrobe was removed, disclosing a flannel nightshirt, which caused a number of the ladies to blush.

"Jerry" was then laid down in his bed and the professor, enjoining silence on the small boys who were hilarious, began his incantations.

HOW IT WAS DONE. "You are going to sleep," he said. "You are entering on a long sleep. This will be the longest sleep of your life. You don't hear a sound; there is nothing to distract you. You will not be wakened for seven days. Your senses are dormant. You are going, going, gone."

When he thought that "Jerry" had gone the professor stuck a pin into his cheek, but no tremor passed over the body of the sleeper.

The committee of physicians satisfied themselves as to the hypnotized condition of the subject, and took his pulse, which was found to be four degrees lower than it was just before sleep was induced.

The pine box, its occupant were packed over to the grave-side by several stalwart Chutes attendants, and every one who tumbled over his neighbor to get there first to take up an advantageous position.

The final act was realistic. Several staid women, who crowded forward to see it all, turned pale and then renewed their efforts to get a full view of the proceedings.

The box was covered with straps, and then the ventilating wooden pipes were set in. An electrician fitted wires into two incandescent bulbs placed just above the sleeper's head, and then the grave-diggers shoveled in the earth until it formed a mound.

A wooden inclosure was next erected; a gateway was made near the two chimneys at the head, and the "interred" was on exhibition.

NO CAUSE FOR ALARM. In all probability the sleeper will be as safe as though he were in a white man's bed. Circulation of the air is secured by means of the three ventilating shafts, and this is made doubly sure by having that at his feet, higher than the others. This arrangement will produce a draft.

The incandescent lights will be kept burning continually, and a sentry will be on duty all the time to note the subject's condition.

There will be nothing to disturb him from without, and as action of the liver, kidneys and stomach has been almost suspended there will be no internal disturbance. The temperature will be kept at his feet, higher than the others. This arrangement will produce a draft.

The temperature of the coffin, which is taken every half-hour, was 64 deg. late last night, and it will not be allowed to fall below 60 deg. In case it

Congressional Action to Be "Forced" by a League of Which Gov. Stanley of Kansas is the President.

THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.
CHICAGO, Feb. 23.—In the next few days, a conference will be held here for the purpose of launching a movement to force Congressional action on international reciprocity. The Western Reciprocity League, of which Gov. Stanley of Kansas is president, and James Deering of Chicago vice-president, will arrange the conference.

A. B. Hull of Topeka, secretary of the league, is in Chicago for this purpose. He will endeavor to bring together manufacturers who favor reciprocity and others interested in the tariff concessions to Cuba will be only one of the league demands. The application of the principle of reciprocity to the trade relations between this country and all foreign countries is sought.

The ratification of the reciprocity treaty with nine nations, action for which has been pending in the United States Senate for more than two years, will be especially urged.

CLARK SELLS MINES.
Columbia-Parrott Group Taken Over by the Amalgamated Company as a Settlement of Pending Litigation.

REUTERS (Mont.) Feb. 23.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) Senator Clark has sold his Columbia-Parrott group of mines to the Amalgamated Company of Anaconda, Mont. The consideration is withheld, but the price is understood to be in the millions. The purchase by the Amalgamated Company was made as a settlement of litigation between the Anaconda and Senator Clark's Columbia-Parrott company.

The great Anaconda lode was involved in the controversy, it having been demonstrated that there was union between that vein and the Columbia-Parrott vein, at a depth of 400 feet below the surface of the Columbia-Parrott, and the latter having been the prior location. Clark's company claimed ownership of the vein after the point of junction.

GONE TO HER REWARD.
Miss Ella Signor, who for several years had been prominent in church work in this city, died yesterday at the home of Mrs. L. D. Chapin, No. 1700 Grover street, after a painful illness. For several days it has been known that she could not recover, but the news of her death will be none the less a shock to her friends, because it was not unexpected. Miss Signor's greatest work was that which gave her many opportunities to do good was in the position of superintendent of the Presbyterian Chinese Mission, and such was her activity in her efforts to benefit those about her that she undermined her health. The funeral will take place Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the residence of Mrs. Chapin.

NEW ELECTRIC LINE IN SAN BERNARDINO.

REGULAR SERVICE BETWEEN THAT CITY AND COLTON

Present Schedule Only Temporary and Additional Cars Will Soon Be Put On. District Attorney Will Prosecute Owners of Nickel-in-the-Slot Machines.

SAN BERNARDINO, Feb. 22.—The first car on the new electric line ran yesterday afternoon and barring a temporary derangement on the curve, corner of Third and E streets, no trouble of any kind occurred. The car was run to Base Line and thence to Colton. The road opened for business with two cars running. One will run from Colton to Base Line via the Santa Fe Third street station, leaving Base Line on the half hour and making the round trip in an hour. The other car will run from the Santa Fe station to Upland Springs, making the round trip in half an hour. This arrangement is only temporary and will soon be succeeded by a better service.

WAR ON SLOT MACHINES.

Dist. Atty. Curtis has served the following notice on all persons owning or operating nickel-in-the-slot machines:

"You are hereby notified that section 239 of the Penal Code of the State of California, and to the further fact that it has been decided that a 'nickel-in-the-slot machine' is a gambling device, and is therefore prohibited by the provisions of the above mentioned section.

"You are further notified that the law, and all persons who do not comply with the provisions of said section, will be prosecuted according to law."

The machine men are syndicating to fight the proposed prosecution.

SAN BERNARDINO BREVITIES.

J. W. Brown, who was injured Friday as a result of jumping off a Santa Fe train at the Colton crossing, was critically ill. It is feared his injuries will prove fatal.

J. Stucker, who escaped from the chain gang Friday night, was arrested yesterday at Indio and brought back to his residence in Colton.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Plesio of Fresno are visiting friends here.

Miss Elizabeth Burr left yesterday for San Francisco.

A Mexican named Gonzalez was brought from Hesperia yesterday, charged with cutting a fellow-countryman with a knife.

George W. Opler was arrested yesterday at his residence on North A street, aged 65 years.

RIVERSIDE.

RAIN SPOT THE SPORTS.

RIVERSIDE, Feb. 22.—The rain interfered with most of the sports planned for yesterday. The baseball game between the Pomona and Redlands teams was postponed until this afternoon, and there were no races at the polo grounds. The tennis tournament was also postponed, but those who have not yet completed their matches will not be put in their scores before the rain stops.

SANTA BARBARA.

LIGHTNING'S STRANGE FEARS.

SANTA BARBARA, Feb. 22.—The rainstorm of Friday night was attended with phenomenal lightning displays, some of them proving more or less damaging, especially to electric wires. Many fuses on the telephone lines were burned out, and the electric-lighting instrument belonging to Optician Leach was badly damaged. Two electric poles, on upper State street, were shattered. Motorcar Frank Van, while running on Victoria street, near Santa Barbara, and George Phillips, a passenger on the front end of the car, saw a bolt shoot down onto the trolley wire, and run along the wire for two blocks, the glare being almost blinding. A Chinaman, on entering a car, stepped upon an iron bolt on the floor. In paying his fare, as the conductor's hand touched the car, a spark was made, and both were severely shocked. The money was a gold piece, and the conductor tried in vain to induce the Chinaman to take back the coin. The latter refused, saying the devil was in it.

SANTA BARBARA BREVITIES.

The funeral of Addison Davis, a prominent Grand Army man, who died on Thursday evening, took place this afternoon at the Colton cemetery.

The rainfall of Friday night and yesterday morning was 3.4 inches, making a total for the season of 6.44 inches. The total for the season of 1922 is 1.35 inches.

THE DEADWOOD COACH.

Noted Vehicle of Overland Mail Days May Become One of the National Museum Curios.

(Washington Correspondence Baltimore Sun.)—Cody, known over the world as "Buffalo Bill," is considering the advisability of presenting his famous Deadwood coach to the National Museum. He is in the city for a few days in the interest of the irrigation of the arid wastes of Wyoming and other States of the West. He visited the National Museum, and had a long talk with several officials of the institution.

When seen by the Times correspondent, Mr. William Willard admitted that the object of his visit to the museum was to see if the coach could be presented to the museum. He said that the coach had been with him for many years, and that he had been thinking of presenting it to the museum for some time.

"I have not reached any decision regarding the donation," said Mr. Cody. "I am still considering it. I return to Wyoming in a few days."

HIDALGO'S GOSSIP.

There was no racing at Oakland on Friday last, it being the occasion of the funeral of Robert B. Milroy, who has been either secretary or assistant secretary of the California Jockey Club since its first organization.

Mr. Milroy's death was the result of a street-car accident about a week previously. Many men spoke harshly of his death, but it was not his fault.

Two meetings and found him a good man to serve under, because he was a good man to serve with. He would never ask his clerks to do any more work than he did himself.

He was a very dark-complexioned man, and had a chronic scowl on his face, but those who knew him well and who knew his heart, knew that he was a very good man.

The good little English stallion Midlothian, owned by John Mackay, superintendent of the Rancho del Paso, died at that place last week, at the ripe age of 18 years.

Charles D. Easton, who was a very fine horse, died at the same place last week, at the ripe age of 18 years.

WILL BUILD A HOSPITAL.

Also a Home for Poor German Boys.

Plans of First German M. E. Church.

Los Angeles Religious Organization That is Well Supplied with Funds.

Plans are being prepared by the board of trustees of the First German Methodist Episcopal Church at 411 S. Main, for a three-story frame building to occupy the site at No. 447 South Olive street. The structure will contain thirty rooms and will be used exclusively for hospital purposes.

Details are not yet completed, but it is known to be the intention of the board to invest $25,000 in a modern hospital. There will be about twenty-five wards, and in addition large reception rooms, waiting rooms, operating rooms and a commodious laboratory will be provided. The structure will be designed with a view to providing the most comfortable and attractive surroundings possible. The exact size of the hospital has not yet been determined, but it is proposed to make it large enough to accommodate all the patients that will seek admittance from among the membership of the German Methodist churches in the Los Angeles conference.

OTHER PLANS IN VIEW.

The site of the proposed sanatorium and hospital is at present occupied by a two-story frame building, owned by the church, which has been used as a rooming house and deaconess' home. It has been planned to remove this building to the rear of the lot occupied by the pastor's residence at No. 449 South Olive street. The building will be arranged as a home for German boys who are members of the congregation, and who have relatives in this country to interest themselves in their education and welfare.

This home will be maintained under the stewardship of the church by the deaconesses already in the service of the congregation. It will be provided with parlors, reception rooms and a large reading room. In the near future it is the intention of the church to provide a system of night instruction for young Germans who will be desirous of learning American business methods. The building will be repodeled in such a manner as will easily admit of its being enlarged when it becomes needed.

MONEY IS READY.

The money that will be required to make all of the improvements that have been discussed by the board of trustees, is in the church treasury. The First German Methodist congregation is one of the wealthiest church organizations in Southern California. Its membership is about two hundred. Rev. O. W. White is pastor, and is the leading spirit in the new movement. The church recently celebrated its silver anniversary.

The church owns all the property from No. 447 to 449 South Olive street. The hospital and young men's home will have the spiritual and financial support of all the German Methodist churches in the Los Angeles conference.

WORK ON HOSPITAL.

Work on the hospital will be inaugurated not later than May 1. Meanwhile Rev. Mr. White may be sent East to inspect a number of different sanatoriums and homes owned and operated by German Methodist churches.
